

contents

JUNE 2009

A New

Boutique
Hotel

On The

Oregon Coast.

Summer just got a little hotter thanks to the flavorful heat doled out at the newly opened Ping (p. 63).

DEPARTMENTS

23 THE MUDROOM

Edited by Brian Barker & Kasey Cordell

- » Memorial Coliseum's untold history
- » All your sins forgiven—but act fast!
- » Could we interest you in free money?
- » Unwritten rules for riding TriMet
- » Summer fun for the whole family

32 PRÊT-À-PORTLAND

Warm-weather dresses arrive in style; Filson finds a home in the Pearl.
By Melissa Tessitor

34 BEYOND THE BRIDGES

A guide to uncovering Lake Tahoe's sunny secrets By Paige Williams

CITY GUIDES

63 EAT&DRINK

Edited by Martha Calhoun

- Review Ping's Pan-Asian flair spices up the heart of Chinatown.
- Introducing French-Vietnamese treats at Jade Teahouse & Patisserie
- Listings Portland's best restaurants

77 ON THE TOWN

Edited by Bart Blasengame

- Art PNCA celebrates a hundred years.
- NowHearThis The Builders and the Butchers' bleak, brilliant Salvation
- NowSeeThis Daniel Robinson's paintings make the mundane magical.
- Listings What's bothering David Sedaris now, zoo tunes, and more

THE COHO
OCEANFRONT LODGE

www.thecoholodge.com

For Reservations Call
800.848.7006

1635 NW Harbor Avenue,
Lincoln City, OR 97367

Exclusively
@ portlandmonthllymag.com

GALLERY

If you're inspired by this issue's Hikes & Bikes (p. 38), our web-only slide show of scenic vistas ("The Right Path") shot by Portland Monthly staffer Scott Weber should get you out the door and into the wild. Plus, we've got pictures from the Red Dress Party, a fancy fest for fiery folks.

FIND IT!

After exhausting all of the hiking possibilities in this month's Hikes & Bikes package (p. 38), make use of our website's Find-A-Trail feature to explore even more remarkable rambling options. Did we miss a route? E-mail us at tellus@portlandmonthllymag.com. We're adding fresh content daily on cultural happenings, charity events (including Snapshots), getaways, shopping opportunities, health and fitness, and more.

BLOGS

John Chandler's Bar Pilot blog delivers expert guidance on cocktails and bars (not to mention new Stumble Zone data), while contributing food editor Mike Thelin cooks up the latest news on the food front in Portland Plated. Both will also take turns recommending happening happy hours. Meanwhile, Bart Blasengame keeps tabs on all things cultural from The Back Row, and a rotating cast of staffers will have their say on the news of the day in The Fine Print.

PHOTOGRAPH BY AMY QUELETTE

